JCC urges Department of Human Services to increase standard of need

In testimony before the New Jersey Department of Human Services March 4 for increase of the 'standard of need,' the New Jersey Catholic Conference proposed recommendations essential to ensuring that the most vulnerable and poorest time for transitional benefits and work support programs for low-income families. As families move from welfare to work into low wages employment it is essential to provide supports like child care, transportation and to graduations, concerts and other special events. The cathedral is also home to an active 4,000-family parish and school, and all the musical events that go with it.
